

Advances in CALL Research and Practice

CALICO is now soliciting proposals for the next volume in the Advances in CALL Research and Practice book series to be published in Spring 2028. The volume may be a single-authored monograph or edited volume and may treat any topic related to the field of CALL.

Proposals should include the following information:

1. name of the author(s)/editor(s) with short bio of about 100 words;
2. tentative title;
3. description of the book and how it will contribute to the discipline (about 500 words);
4. outline of the scope and sequence of the book, including potential number of chapters and key questions that the book intends to address
5. production timeline (containing deadlines for CfPs, first drafts, 1st/2nd review, final chapters); and
6. if an edited volume, description of the procedures for soliciting and refereeing manuscripts for the chapters.

Proposals should be submitted as a Word document to steph.link@okstate.edu no later than September 30, 2025. Final chapters must be submitted to University of Toronto Press no later than July 30, 2027.

You can find more information about the series here:

<https://www.equinoxpub.com/home/advances-call-research-practice/>

The 2028 volume will be the 12th book in the new series. Previous volumes include:

2016 Landmarks in CALL Research, Edited by Greg Kessler

2017 Learner Autonomy and Web 2.0, Edited by Tim Lewis, Annick Rivens Mompean, and Marco Cappellini

2018 Assessment Across Online Language Education, Edited by Stephanie Link and Jinrong Li

2019 Engaging Language Learners through CALL, Edited by Nike Arnold and Lara Ducate

2020 Understanding Attitude in intercultural virtual communication, Edited by Ana Oskoz and Marga Vinagre

2021 Project-Based Language Learning and CALL: From Virtual Exchange to Social Justice, Edited by Michael Thomas and Kasumi Yamazaki

2022 Identity, Multilingualism and CALL, Edited by Liudmila Klimanova

2024 Technology-mediated Crisis Response to Language Teaching Edited by Senta Goerter and Jesse Gleason

2025 Advancing Critical CALL Across Institutions and Borders Edited by Emma Britton, Angelika Kraemer, Theresa Austin, Hengyi Liu, and Xinyue Zuo

2026 Game-Based Approaches to CALL Edited by Linda Jones, Curtis Maughan, and David Fredrick

2027 CALL and the Intersection Between Language and Culture by Sofia Di Sarno-García and Abraham Cerveró

Recent volumes in the previous CALICO Monograph series include:

2010 CALL in Limited Technology Contexts, ed. Joy Egbert

2011 Present and Future Promises of CALL (2nd edition of 2006), eds. Nike Arnold and Lara Ducate

2012 Technology Across Writing Contexts and Tasks, eds. Greg Kessler, Ana Oskoz, and Idoia Elola

2013 Design-Based Research in CALL, eds. Julio Rodríguez and Cristina Pardo-Ballester

2014 Digital Literacies in Foreign and Second Language Education, eds. Janel Pettes Guikema and Lawrence Williams

2015 Researching Language Learner Interaction Online: From Social Media to MOOCs, eds. Ed Dixon and Michael Thomas